Are You Tired, Nervous and Sleepless?

Nervousness and sleeplessness are usually due to the fact that the nerves are not fed on properly nourishing blood; they are starved nerves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood, and thereby the nerves are properly nourished and all the organs of the body are run as smoothly as machinery which runs in oil. In this way you feel clean, strong and strenuous—you are toned up and invigorated, and you are good for a whole lot of physical or mental work. Best of all, the strength and increase in vitality and health are lasting.

The trouble with most tonics and medicines which have a large, booming sale for a short time, is that they are largely composed of alcohol holding the drugs in solution. This alcohol shrinks up the red blood corpuscles, and in the long run greatly injures the system. One may feel exhilarated and better for the time being, yet in the end weakened and with vitality decreased. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains no alcohol. Every bottle of it bears upon its wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in a full list of all its several ingredients. For the druggist to offer you something he claims is "just as good" is to insult your intelligence.

Every ingredient entering into the world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery" has the unanimous approval and endorsement of the leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice. No other medicine sold through druggists for like purposes has any such endorsement.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only produces all the good effects to be obtained from the use of Golden Seal root, in all stomach, liver and bowel troubles, as in dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, ulceration of stomach and bowels and kindred ailments, but the Golden Seal root used in its compounding is greatly enhanced in its curative action by other ingredients such as Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root and chemically pure triple-rectified glycerine.

"The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is sent free in paper covers on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. For 31 stamps the cloth-bound volume will be sent. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, biliousness and headache.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Cantharides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair growers.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

KILLED IN RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

A dispatch from Dundee, Scotland, says that in a railroad collision, caused indirectly by the heavy snow storm of the last few days, sixteen persons have been killed and over thirty injured. The accident occurred near Arbroath, on the North British railroad, between Edinburgh and Aberdeen, and some distance north of Dundee. Among the persons injured is Alexander William Black, member of the House of Commons from Banffshire, Scotland.

The accident is attributed to the heavy fall of snow, owing to which trains from London for Aberdeen were held up at Arbroath. During the afternoon, however, the line was cleared and one train proceeded for Dundee. It had stopped at Elliot Junction, and the danger signals were thought to have been set. They failed to act, however, through being clogged with snow, or from some other cause not yet ascertained, and an express train dashed into the rear of the waiting train.

Mr. Black had both legs broken. A number of others sustained serious injuries, and it is feared that some of them will succumb.

It is many years since central Europe generally has suffered so severely from an arctic visitation as it has this Christmas week. From France, Belgium, Switzerland, Germany, and Austria-Hungary the same tale is repeated of heavy snow-storms, the interruption of railroad, vehicular, and telegraphic communication, the loss of life and general discomfort and inconvenience in the towns, as well as in the country districts.

Railroad traffic in the northern part of England, and especially in Scotland, is becoming completely tied up.

None of the trains that left London Thursday over the Midland Railway has yet reached Edinburgh, while in all other directions trains are snowbound, and passengers are suffering from cold and hunger. The relief trains sent out are being similarly imbedded in the snow, and the railroad companies have issued official notice that it is impossible to guarantee traffic on schedule time so far as Scotland is concerned, although there has not yet been serious trouble in central and southern England. The gales have caused many minor casualties along the coasts.

War with Cuba Inevitable.

All concealment has been dropped by the administration regrading the imminence of trouble in Cuba. Grave apprehensions are felt, not only by high officials of the government, but by prominent members of the Senate and House of Representatives regarding the future of the island, and the statement was made yesterday by a prominent member of the administration that war was probably the only way out of the difficulty.

This frank statement was made yesterday for the purpose of acquainting the country with the consequences almost certain to develop within the next few months, possibly within the next few weeks, and perhaps within a few days. The difficulty, as it is understood, is that nobody in Cuba desires a peaceful settlement. Efforts on the part of the United States to provide for an election of representatives in Congress and the establishment of a stable government are not being met with real sympathy by either of the Cuban political parties.

The general staff has elaborate plans made for sending large forces of armed troops to Cuba. It is admitted that if this country should be confronted with a general revolt in the island the entire army of the United States, 65,000 men would probably be inadequate to cope with the situation.

Within a few weeks, the Atlantic fleet, under Rear-Admiral Evans, will be assembled in Cuban waters for its winter practice cruise and reorganization. It will consist of at least 12 battleships, and in addition to the sailors, will have a force of perhaps 4,000 marines. There are also considerable forces of marines now in quarters in Panama, Culebra and the Isthmus of Panama.

Fearful Sight.

Broadway, New York, crowds were thrilled yesterday by the sight of a woman standing in a window of the Hotel Calvert, at Forty-first street, framed in fire, which was licking up the curtains and the Christmas wreaths and with her long, loose-hanging hair in a blaze.

While the horrified people watched they saw men seize the woman just in time to prevent her from leaping out of the window and drench her with water from a fire hose. A rush of fire engines and other apparatus to the hotel and the arrival of a squad of reserve policemen added to the excitement.

The woman was Mrs. Mary Parker, mother of the wife of L. E. Waterman, jr., a wealthy merchant, who occupies a suite of four rooms on the Broadway side of the fourth floor.

With streams from the fire hose in the hall the fire was put out after Mrs. Parker had first been thoroughly soaked. Mrs. Parker was badly burned, but may recover.

She Mustn't Pull His Whiskers.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 29.—Mrs. Glade must not pull her husband's whiskers. She has been enjoined. John Glade still has a luxurious growth, long, curly, giving him a patriarchal look, but his whiskers are not what they once were he says, because of Johanna's habit o' pulling them out by handfuls. So, Thursday, John went before Judge Phillips with his grievance, and the court granted him a temporary restraining order by which Johanna must refrain from pulling his whiskers and from "jawing him on the streets of Cleveland," as his petition reads. "I will admit," Mrs. Glade said, "that John and I have had our fusses, but, heavens and earth! I'm his sixth wife, and if he could not get along with the other five I guess I ain't to blame if he can't get along with me."

Following The Flag.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines, health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired Commissary Sergeant U. S. A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now, in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases." Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING, DEC. 29, 1906.

THE COMMITTEE of Atlanta business men which has been investigating the recent race riot in Atlanta has made its findings public. The report declares that the "tough element has crucified Atlanta in the eyes of the world, and shocked the moral sense of our people. Among the victims of the mob there was not a single vagrant. They were earning wages in useful work up to the time of the riot." The above will bring to mind an unfortunate chapter in the history of Alexandria. Forty-one years ago last Tuesday a dozen or more ill-mannered negroes with drums and fifes paraded the streets before the stars were out of the sky discoursing "Sherman's March through Georgia" "John Brown's Body is Mouldering in the Grave" and other airs calculated to incense many Alexandrians who had laid down their arms at Appomattox eight months before. The darkeys in their march through the city, it is alleged, were guilty of a number of overt acts, and later in the day many whites, having become incensed, started up King street and assaulted every colored man they encountered. Some were severely injured and one killed. It seems, however, that the darkeys who precipitated the trouble escaped the consequences of their insolence, and the colored people who suffered were of the inoffensive and industrious class who had generally been respected by their white acquaintances. The report of the recent troubles in Atlanta shows that the same mistake was made in that city, the guilty escaping and the innocent suffering.

THE DEATH of President Alexander Cassatt of the Pennsylvania Railroad is the second head of a great system to pass away almost in the twinkling of an eye during the past few weeks. President Samuel Spencer was instantly killed one month ago today while asleep in his private car; President Cassatt was overtaken by death yesterday while sitting in a chair at his home, and his strenuous life brought to a sudden close. Both gentlemen had, to use a military figure of speech, won their spurs by hard work and close application to their calling. They had begun at the lowest rung of ladder—that of railroad rodman—and with untiring zeal and the industry of beavers rose from one place of responsibility to another until they had become the heads of two of the greatest corporations of the world. The history of both men verifies the observation that "there is plenty of room on top" for men of genius who have the industry to develop nature's gifts. They did not belong to the class who while away the best days of their lives waiting for something to turn up, but placed themselves among the pioneers in the march of life and eventually reaped the fruits of their mental and physical toils.

IT HAS often been observed that a vein of superstition runs through nearly every member of the human race. Dr. Johnson is said to have manifested at times symptoms of the distemper, while Charles Dickens, a man endowed with genius, was subject to it all his life. When the opening chapters of Dicken's first novel appeared he was out of London. The book immediately attracted attention and the author awoke to find himself famous. It is said that even afterwards Dicken's when he launched the first instalment of a novel left London, seemingly convinced that such a movement brought good luck to his productions. Dispatches from New York shows that superstition is by no means dead. They say Miss Madeline Goddard, the daughter of Col. R. H. I. Goddard, a millionaire cotton manufacturer, and a first cousin of Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin, of New York, was to be married Friday morning to Marquis Rene D'Andigne, of Anjou, France. But the date has been changed to the next day. Miss Goddard decided that she wouldn't brave superstition, in deference to the pleadings of her girl friends, and refused to be married on Friday, as it is suspposed to be an unlucky day.

THE TROUBLE experienced by corporations and other employers during the holiday season has naturally caused such to dread the approach of Christmas, as so many fail to see anything but a Saturnalia on the occasion—a time when loose rein should be given to appetites and passions. A dispatch from Richmond says that both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies are having their troubles this week. The messenger boys made the rounds and collected a sum of money, which was followed by a general distribution. That was on Christmas Eve. Many of the boys have not been near the offices since they got their hands on the cash. Some are said to have left the city and others just became too tired and decided to quit work. It was too much prosperity for them, and they fell. Less than half the boys are at work. The debauchery indulged in by many during the holiday season is disgusting, but there are more serious phases in the shape of disorders and not a few murders to disgrace Christmas. Such are sad incidents in connection with the day which the newspapers are called upon to chronicle.

THE RULING of the Interstate Commerce Commission, that a railroad may not issue transportation in exchange for advertising in newspapers, is to have a legal test through a case brought by the Monon Railway Company. President McDoel has ordered the continuance of contracts for transportation in payment for advertising. It is believed that he will be sustained by the courts.

UNDER the pure food law which goes into effect on January 1st, merchants of this city who purchase goods outside of the State, to protect themselves should secure a certificate from those from whom they buy, stating that the goods are properly labeled and are as named on the label. Merchants who ship goods outside of the State will have to give a similar certificate.

THE apple crop of the United States for the current year is estimated at over 36,120,000 bushels, which is 12,500,000 bushels more than last year's crop. Apples this year are among the few cheap articles of food and as they are wholesome and nutritious they will probably enter more largely into the public larder than ever before.

THE TRUSTS are very generally putting up wage rates. But none of them has neglected the precautionary measure of putting up the price of its particular commodity beforehand. The wage goes up, but the consumer pays the advance. The net earnings of the trusts remain unimparied, and they take unearned credit for philanthropy.

ON January 1 the laws for prohibiting the adulteration of food products and for the manufacture of free denatured alcohol will go into operation. It is to be hoped that both laws can be administered in accordance with their true intent.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, Dec. 29.

With regards to the published statement that he would be a candidate for President in 1908. Secretary of War Taft today gave out the following statement: "For the purpose of relieving the burden imposed by recent publications upon some of my friends among the Washington newspaper correspondents, of putting further inquiries to me, I wish to say that my ambition is not political; that I am not seeking the presidential nomination; that I do not expect to be the republican candidate, if for no other reason, because of what seems to me to be objections to my availability which do not appear to lessen with the continued discharge of my officials duties but that I am not foolish enough to say that in the improbable event that the opportunity to run for the great office of President were to come to me, I should decline it, for this would not be true."

Neither the picture of the President nor the likeness of any member of his family may be used to advertise any private business or preparation, according to Secretary Loeb, who this morning entered a denial to the story wired from Chicago that secret service officials had compelled a number of dive keepers to remove pictures of President Roosevelt from the walls of their places of business. "We do not know anything about the Chicago incident" said Mr. Loeb "I am very certain that no orders for the removal of the pictures were sent out from Washington. I do not see how we could prevent, even it we wished to do so, any one from hanging a picture of the President on the wall of his house or place of business. We do draw the line however, at the pictures of the President or members of his family being used to advertise breweries, liquors, soaps or other articles of manufacture.

A stinging rebuke has been administered by Secretary of the Navy Metcalf to Surgeon John H. Moore, U. S. Navy, who was recently tried and found guilty of the charge of "drunkenness on duty." Officers of the navy who have read the reprimand declare it is nearly unprecedented in the annals of the navy in its severity. Surgeon Moore was the only medical officer aboard the U. S. S. Indiana, and was recently tried at the New York Navy Yard. He was found guilty by the court, but only sentenced "to be suspended from rank and duty for a period of six months, on one-half of the pay he would receive if performing duty at sea, to retain his present number in his grade while so suspended; and to be publicly reprimanded by the Secretary of the Navy."

Another of the famous Cuban tariff cases will be called for argument before the Supreme Court of the United States, shortly after the holiday recess, and in preparation for this, the brief for Galban & Co., in opposition to the tariff imposed, was filed today with the court. The question to be decided is whether the United States should have collected duties on goods transported from the United States to Cuba during the American military occupation of the island.

Secretary of War Taft this morning received most assuring information from Cuba regarding the situation there. Civil Governor Magoon in a letter dated December 23, says there is no danger of a general uprising, and believes that the civil government established by the United States will continue to exercise its functions peaceably. Secretary Taft stated that so far as is known there is no ground for the general public statement that disturbances exist in Cuba.

Chief Inspector Vickery of the Postoffice Department today denied the published reports of the alleged discharge of Anthony Comstock as a postoffice inspector, on account of pernicious activity in waging war on the Art Students' League, of New York city. It is true, however, that complaint was made against "St. Anthony" and an investigation was conducted by the department. "We found nothing that could call for official rebuke," said Chief Inspector Vickery. "Comstock's orders were not changed. He will continue to act as inspector in New York and will see to it that the mails are kept as free as possible from prohibited matter."

President Roosevelt has received an offer from E. H. Harriman to transport free of charge on his own ships all the supplies now being collected by the Red Cross under the President's proclamation for the starving natives of China.

News of the Day.

Sir Mortimer and Lady Durand, retiring British ambassador to the United States, was a passenger today on the steamer Umbria, which sailed from New York for Liverpool.

Mrs. Russell Sage, of New York, has in view of the thousands of begging letters she has received issued a statement that she does not intend to distribute her money everywhere and to everybody.

On July 1, 1907, James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway, will retire from the active management of his vast properties. Mr. Hill's successor will be his eldest son, Louis W. Hill, now first vice president of the Great Northern.

William H. Taft, Secretary of War, will be a candidate for the republican presidential nomination in 1908 if it shall appear there is a demand for his candidacy. Mr. Taft's future, politically, is in the hands of his friends in Ohio and throughout the country.

It was announced at the State Department yesterday that the United States government, through its Ambassador in London, has pledged to Great Britian its support in any steps taken by the British government toward ameliorating the condition of affairs in the Congo.

Col. Wm. D. Mann, of Town Topics, was acquitted in New York last night of the charge that he committed perjury at the trial of Norman Hapgood when he testified that he had not writen the initials "O. K., W. D. M.," on a letter from Count Reginald Ward about Rice mining stock.

The French Senate has concluded the general debate on the new church measure, and the principle of the bill was voted yesterday by 187 ayes to 87 nays. There only remains the discussion of the details of the various sections and it is expected that this bill will be completed today.

Determined to do away with Japanese labor, the Great Northern Railroad is importing negroes from Missouri. Three coach loads arrived at Tacoma, Wash., Thursday and 150 were in the party. Japanese laborers are becoming more scarce every day. While they are steady workers, they do not seem to accomplish as much in one day as other men.

John J. Reed, about 60 years old, of Washington, shot himself twice yesterday afternoon with suicidal intent and died at the Emergency Hospital last night. Reed conducted a cigar store at the southwest corner of Sixth and E streets. No cause has been ascertained for his suicide. The deceased was a brother of Mr. Jas. N. Marmaduke, of this city.

The death of Mr. A. J. Cassett, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, was announced in yesterday's Gazette. For the present First Vice President Green will have directing charge of the company's affairs. The Philadelphia Record says Vice Presidents McCrea, Rea or Pugh, in about the order named, seem the probabilities as Mr. Cassett's successor. It is said that Mr. Henry C. Frick, who was on Monday elected as director of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, would not accept the presidency if it were offered him.

Three persons dead and five injured, some fatally, is the record for Asheville, N. C., and vicinity as the result of holiday celebrations. Late Thursday afternoon France Sumner shot and instantly killed Charles Powers at Arden station, near Asheville. Powers was shot through the heart. In Limestone township Bob Garvin was probably fatally shot by an unknown person during a general row. One man was killed, another fatally injured and a third stabbed in Jackson county. In Savannah township Coleman Frady shot and killed his brother, Robert Frady. In Canada township John Brown was probably fatally wounded by Henry R. Hyneshart and Elijah Owens was fatally stabbed by Brackens, a notorious desperado.

Ashes on Sea Grave.

Pittsburg, Dec. 29.—When Samuel Creelman, for many years Justice of the Peace of Wilkinsburg, died, he left a message to his friends to be read at the funeral, and set aside a sum of money for the care of birds, which he loved so well.

But the strangest part of the will has just leaked out. In it he directed that his body be cremated and that the ashes be taken to the middle of the Atlantic Ocean, and that they be cast overboard by his wife, that he might rest near his once most intimate friend, William Cruikshank. Cruikshank was one of many passengers on the State of Florida, lost at sea many years ago. Mr. Creelman never stopped mourning for his friend. In the will he mentions the exact latitude and longitude where the vessel went down.

Bride Finds Husband has Two Other Wives.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 29.—Mrs. Annie C. Wheeler, married in this city several months ago, as the result of a long-distance courtship, in which letters and photographs were Cupid's principal darts, has come to grief in Toledo, Ohio. She left her husband of a few months in Jackson, Mich., when she learned that he had two other wives living, and she was en route to this city when her funds gave out. A daughter of Wheeler interrupted the honeymoon after her father and his latest wife had lived happily for two weeks in their Jackson home. Wheeler admitted his guilt, and, now a much wiser woman, Mrs. Wheeler is returning to her old home in this city. The authorities in Toledo have given her sufficient money with which to pay her way.

Will Not Retire.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 29.—James J. Hill today denied a report given wide circulation last night that he will retire from the presidency of the Great Northern Railroad on July 1st next, in favor of his son. While he would like to be relieved of his responsibilities, Mr. Hill declared he can see no way at present to retire.

Catarrh of the nose and throat should lead you to at least ask us for a free trial box of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. Mr. J. W. Robertson, aged 71 years, for 35 years a leading merchant of Charlottesville, died yesterday. He served throughout the civil war as a member of Company C, Fifteenth Virginia Regiment Pickett's Division.

Mr. John D. Jones, formerly of Fredericksburg, now of Morrisville, and Miss Louise Corran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Corran, of Front Royal, were married Thursday in the Presbyterian Church at the latter place.

Capt. E. W. Bowles, of Co., A, Richmond Light Infantry Blues Battalion, will be elected major by the line officers of the battalion at a meeting to be held some evening next week. Col. Willard declined the honor tendered him.

A report from Williamsburg is that Dr. L. S. Foster, whom the general board removed from office of superintendent of the Eastern Asylum, has served an injunction on Col. L. W. Lane, the commissioner, seeking to prevent his removal before the expiration of the term for which he was elected.

Messrs. O. D. Foster and S. E. Foster, of Fredericksburg, have purchased of Virgil G. Williams, of Washington, three large tracts of timber land in Prince William county. Mr. Foster will begin at once to cut the timber and ship the same to northern markets. It is said that this is one of the finest tracts of timber in eastern Virginia.

The Secretary of War has informed the House committee on fortifications that the legal obstacles to the acquirement by the government of title to the land under water at the entrance of Chesapeake bay necessary as a site for the creation of an artificial island and fortress have been removed. The Governor of Virginia has been clothed with authority to transfer the land to the United States government, and if Congress makes the necessary appropriation of $1,325,000 for the purchase of sites and erection of fortifications already included in the estimates submitted by Secretary Taft the work will speedily begin and an island of 50 acres will be created at the entrance of the bay.

Woman Beaten to Death.

News was received at Harrisonburg, Va., yesterday evening from Hardy county, W. Va., of a brutal murder at Peru, in the heart of the Allegheny mountains.

Dorothy Ween, also known as Harpman, who had been living with a man by the name of Vance Simons, was terribly beaten as she lay ill in bed with typhoid fever. She died Monday in great agony. Two young men of the neighborhood are under surveillance, being suspected of complicity in the affair.

Peru, where the murder occurred, is a small mountain hamlet. Heavy snows and bad weather in the mountains have made communication difficult, and very little can be learned about the matter.

The Harpman woman was about 24 years of age, and went to Peru some time ago from Keyser, W. Va. She became ill three or four weeks ago, and had been confined to the house since. The woman's death was discovered by neighbors Monday evening. Her body was covered with cuts and bruises, and her face showed marks of inhuman treatment.

Patients were Burglars.

Dr. D. B. Blumnstein, of west Twenty-seventh street, New York, was awakened about 1 o'clock Christmas morning by a ring at his doorbell. At the door he found a young man whom he had treated under the name of Smith a month ago for a slight ailment. Smith had a companion, a dark young man. Smith told the physician he needed further treatment. Dr. Blumnstein invited both into his office, and after asking his patient to describe his symptons he sat down at his desk to write a prescription.

He had just picked up his pen when the muzzle of a revolver was thrust under his nose and he heard the command "Put up your hands!" Smith, who held the revolver, remarked: "We want all your money. Don't make a fuss, but tell us where we can get it."

Dr. Blumnstein managed to conceal a large diamond ring on his finger before he was bound and gagged. Then the thieves searched the house.

They awakened Mrs. Blumnstein and her baby, and while one of the robbers pacified the child the other with a pistol persuaded the woman to give up $32. Then they fled.

Vale of Death for Negroes.

Voltair, Pa., Dec. 29.—As the result of a warning uttered by a female "hex" doctor more than five years ago there are said to be no negroes except one, and he a stranger, within the borders of Dover township, one of the largest in York county and containing a population of 2,500.

Following the death of a negro from a snake's bite while in the Conewago hills, the woman prophesied that any negro who entered the township would imperil his life and put a "hoodoo" on his own existence. At that time few negroes lived there, and since that time they have shunned the township.

The citizens of the township declare that this strange negro, who was taken up his abode in a little shack on the farm of Robert Mareb, near Harmony Grove, is the only black man among the 2,500 souls. This negro has acted so queerly that he has aroused the suspicion that he is in hiding.

Today's Telegraphic News

Mr. McCrea and the Pennsylvania.

Washington, Dec. 29.—Should James McCrea, Vice President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, succeed the late Alexander J. Cassatt as president of the Pennsylvania, not the least gratified men interested in railroading would be the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The late President Cassatt received full credit for having practically destroyed rebating on the eastern trunk lines, but it was never asserted that his anti-rebate policy promulgated in 1899, shortly after Mr. Cassatt took charge of the Pennsylvania, was actuated solely by a desire to obey the law.

Mr. Cassatt's friends claimed for him this high minded motive, but as a matter of fact, the great railroad manager had establish a Pennsylvania interest in the B. & O., Norfolk and Western and Chesapeake and Ohio which prevented the necessity of cut-throat tactics among these rivals and made an anti-rebate policy a money making venture. In reality obedience to the law was far more profitable than violation. The exposures of the coal and oil investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission last June resulted in some startling discoveries by the Interstate Commission during its hearings in Philadelpeia.

While Mr. Cassatt was not directly connected with evil practices, many minor officials of the Pennsylvania were found to be in league with favored coal companies in western Pennsylvania and saw to it that the favorites received advantages in car distribution, company fuel orders and similar railroad favors. Some of the members of Mr. Cassatt's family, if not himself individually, owned stock or were closely associated with large coal mining operations in the bituminous district which were alleged to enjoy large favors, particularly in car distribution.

The investigation resulted in the dismissal of a number of minor officials of the Pennsylvania and the promulgation of an order prohibiting the ownership of coal stock by Pennsylvania employes.

The Pennsylvania reputation for integrity suffered several hard blows during the Philadelphia hearings and some of her most eminent officials went through grueling cross-examinations in which they made admissions that put them in a sorry plight.

Like a breath of fresh air was the appearance of James McCrea as a Pennsylvania witness. Himself a director of the eastern company, his real field was west of Pittsburg, where as vice president and general manager of the Pennsylvania lines he was then and still is practically supreme. He convinced the members of the commission that there was no favoritism among the coal mines served by the lines under his command. Problems of car distribution there were, but they were so well solved that operators never kicked about being sacrificed by the railroad for the benefit of favored rivals.

Mr. McCrea testified before the commission for the better part of a day. He cleared the atmosphere, so to speak. The effect of his testimony was to show complete knowledge of railroad management from financial policy to detail of operation, and at the same time to establish in the mind of his hearers that McCrea was a man of broad-minded and practical honesty.

Alleged Cause of President Cassatt's Death.

New York, Dec. 29.—"He died of a broken heart." This is the outspoken comment of friends of Alexander J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania, whose death occurred yesterday. The "Stokes-Adams syndrome" is given by physicians as the cause of death but Mr. Cassatt's intimates realize what was the real cause. The sensational disclosures made during the investigation of the Pennsylvania Railroad by the Interstate Commerce Commission that officers of the company had enjoyed big profits from coal companies in exchange for favors is held responsible for Mr. Cassatt's death. He was in Europe when these facts were brought out, but he hastened home to investigate for himself. From the day he became convinced the stories were true, he was a changed man. His health began to fail and his death was no great surprise to those who knew the facts.

Philadelphia, Dec. 29.—Arrangements have been completed for the funeral of A. J. Cassatt, late President of the Pennsylvania Railroad system, who died here yesterday afternoon.

Services will be held at the family residence in No. 202 west Rittenhouse Square on Monday at 2 p. m. The interment will be at 4 o'clock, at the Church of the Redeemer at Bryn Mawr.

Mr. Cassatt was a communicant of the Church of Erpeomer and his family also had a paw in St. James Church.

Sinking of a Ferryboat.

New York, Dec. 29.—The ferryboat Paterson, of the Erie Railroad Company, collided with a freight lighter in the middle of North river early today, and was sunk. Eighteen teams on board were drowned. The steamer left Pavonia avenue, Jersey City, at 5:13 bound for Twenty-third street, New York. The collision occurred between Hoboken and New York.

There were fifty passengers on the ferryboat at the time the accident occurred, and they were thrown into the greatest panic by the crash. The Paterson careened wildly, first to one side, then to the other, as water poured into her broken hull. As she settled the passengers rushed to the upper decks. Life belts were seized and arrangements made to lower the life boats.

A heavy fog hung over the river, making it impossible for any one on the boat to see far across the waters. The ferryboat sounded her whistle, but tugs could not reach her before she went down.

Eighteen teams of Swift & Co. were on the boat. As the water came around the horses they plunged and reared in mad terror. Some were released by the drivers before the men had time to rush to the decks above. There was no escape for the animals, however, as they could only swim about in the enclosure. The deck came down on them and all were drowned.

When it became necessary to put out the life boats they were filled rapidly and rowed away in the darkness, carrying the passengers to safety.

Del Barker, an oiler on the Paterson, was missing when the passengers and crew were counted after the accident. He was below when the crash came and it is feared may not have escaped.

The tug Joshua Lovett, which was towing the lighter, picked up passengers from the life boats. Serious damage was done to the lighter, which was in danger of sinking, but it was towed ashore.

Marine Disaster.

London, Dec. 29.—Fears are entertained that the unknown vessel reported in distress off Scarborough cannot long survive the terrible seas which are pounding her, and as all efforts to send relief to the ship have failed, another tragedy of the sea, with heavy loss of life, may be enacted there. The vessel began sending up rockets last night, and efforts were at once made to reach her. So rough is the sea that it is impossible to launch boats.

Scarborough, Eng., Dec. 29.—The steamship reported in distress off this port last night, was the Steward from Odessa to Newcastle. In the storm she lost her propellor and barely escaped being driven on the dreaded Filey Brigg, a dangerous point projecting into the North Sea eight miles southwest of Scarborough. At the critical moment when it seemed she would be dashed on the rocks, her anchors caught and held her safely throughout the night.

Murdered by Indians.

Bisbee, Arizona, Dec. 29.—Three women, captured by Yaqui Indians in their recent raid on the new town of Laucho, were carried away by the savages to their stronghold in the hills and are still held in captivity. This is the news brought today. Details of the Indian raid, just becoming known, show that horrible barbarities were perpetrated by the Yaquis. Ten men, women, and children were killed and two others fatally shot. For two hours the Indians held the little town, torturing prisoners, and revelling in plunder. They fled at the approach of a train which they evidently imagined was bringing relief. Soldiers arrived from the garrison west of the town shortly afterward. The American station agent and his family, who escaped, concealed themselves under a board walk fifteen inches above ground and so escaped observation. The captives were submitted to tortue by fire knives. An expedition is in pursuit of the Indians.

Discussing New Commercial Treaty.

Berlin, Dec. 29.—The American tariff commissioners who are here discussing with German commissioners the subject of a new commercial treaty between the United States and Germany are endeavoring to secure concessions whereby American cattle may be eventually shipped to Hamburg, slaughtered there, and the meat sold throughout Germany. A willingness to conform to rigorous sanitary inspection at all stages is expressed by the American commissioners. So far the German commissioners have refused to agree to such an arrangement and the press is opposing it vigorously. To grant such concessions, it is argued, would only create a new field of activity for the American meat trust.

Searching for Kidnapped Child.

New York, Dec. 29.—Search is being conducted today by private detectives and lawyers employed by Mrs. Isabelle W. Van Alstyne, divorced wife of Guy Chase Van Alstyne, for her four-year-old son, D'Arcy, who was kidnapped from her room in the Gilsey House early yesterday morning. This kidnapping is one of the most sensational of all the incidents in the stormy career of the Van Alstynes. It was kept secret until today, as the police and the kidnapped and that her attorneys would be able to get the child back.

Mrs. Sage's Benefactions.

New York, Dec. 29.—Russell Sage's money is not going to the four corners of the world. New York city is to receive most of Mrs. Sage's benefactions, but not one cent will be given until full investigation of the merit of person or cause to which it is donated has been made. It will be a year also before any gifts are made. These facts are set out in a statement made by Mrs. Sage.

Indicted Insurance Officials.

New York, Dec. 29.—Developments today show that the indictments against George W. Perkins, former Vice President of the New York Life Insurance Company, and Charles S. Fairchild, were only agreed to by the grand jury after District Attorney Jerome had threatened to take the jurors before Recorder Goff and have them publicly given ironclad orders.

Old Dominion Line Steamer Ashore.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 29.—The Old Dominion steamship Hamilton, which left Newport News yesterday for Norfolk, carrying passengers and freight, went aground today at Sewell's Point, 6 miles below this city, during a fog. The ship is rocking, but it is believed she can be floated without much damage being done. Tugs have gone to her assistance.

Col. Oberutsheff Killed.

Warsaw, Poland, Dec. 29.—Twenty workmen from Lodz, where a lockout has been declared, forced their way into the home of Col. Oberutsheff at Lukoff, Poland, today and killed him. Servants in the house were bound by the assassins and the place looted. Col. Oberutsheff was formerly military commander at Lodz.

Europe Storm Bound.

Paris, Dec. 29.—Europe is practically storm bound. In some parts of the continent the storm continues. Railroad traffic in France, Spain, Switzerland and Belgium is seriously hampered.

Two Cardinals Dead.

Rome, Dec. 29.—Two high prelates were lost to the Catholic Church today in the deaths of Cardinals Cavagnis and Trippi. Paralysis was the cause of death in each instance.

Marriage of Miss Rives.

Tokio, Dec. 29.—Miss Hallie Erminie Rives, the author and poet, and Lieut. Wheeler were married today at the American embassy. In connection with the marriage a story is being told showing that the wedding was the climax of a romance begun on Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht Erin.

In 1901 the races between the Shamrock and Columbia Miss Rives and Mr. Wheeler were invited to be Sir Thomas Lipton's guests on the Erin during one of the races. Both missed the tender. When Mr. Wheeler reached the pier he found Miss Rives almost in tears at the thought of missing the race. He procured a boat which pursued the Erin and they were put aboard. From this meeting their acquaintance grew, culminating in today's ceremony.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Dec. 29.—The market in the first hour was unsettled and irregular, with many cross movements in prices. The result of closing out of contracts on both the long and short side is natural at the end of the year.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP,

Suicide of Building Inspector.

Camden, N. J., Dec. 29.—William Steinmetz, building inspector of this city, committed suicide some time last night by cutting his throat. His body was found this morning lying beneath the rear porch of the Fifth ward republican club, of which he was a member, at Third and Chestnut streets. A handkerchief had been stuffed in the wound in an attempt to stop the flow of blood. A plumber, who had been called in to do some work, seeing the trail of blood followed it from the bathroom to the rear yard. Steinmetz cut his throat in the bathroom, then, holding a basin to catch the blood, made his way down stairs and crawled under the porch. He had been brooding since last February over the death of his wife. He was renominated last night for a new term of three years.

Last July Fowler left her. Mrs. Fowler filed an application for a divorce and the papers were issued about a month ago. Mrs. Fowler left Baltimore Thursday morning and left word that she would return in about ten days.

First Baptist Sunday School.

The First Baptist Church Sunday school held its Christmas celebration last evening at which there was a large attendance to witness the exercises. The church was very prettily decorated with evergreens. The pulpit was arranged to represent a home scene, at one corner being a mantel and fire-place and from the former were hung stockings of all sizes. At the other corner of the platform was a Christmas tree which was beautifully decorated with miniature electric lights, which, together with the ornaments, richly set forth its beauty. At the concluding part of the exercises arranged by the Bryant Electric Company. All in attendance were profuse in their praise of the excellence of the exercises.

After Pigeons.

Early last night considerable excitement was caused on Fairfax street, between Wolfe and Wilkes, by the shrieks of a boy, who, it was supposed, had been dangerously wounded or had been suddenly plunged into some great distress. There was desultory pistol firing in the neighborhood at the time, which is a nightly occurrence, and some people suppose the boy had been struck by a stray bullet. It was later ascertained, however, that the youth had been pulled by one of his legs from a loft where he had gone with a bag for the purpose of stealing pigeons. The man of the house heard the boy in the loft and had gone on a reconnoissance. He saw one of the boy's legs protruding from his hiding place and pulled the youngster out of the loft. The youth was subsequently allowed to depart.

Second Presbyterian Church.

Rev. David Wills, D. D., will occupy the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning and night. This will be the last opportunity the people at this city will have to hear Dr. Wills, as Rev. J. R. Sevier, who has been called to the pastorate, will assume his duties the following Sunday. He will reach this city on Tuesday next.

Mr. Cameron Johnson, who has labored at his own expense in the mission field of Japan and Korea will be the speaker for the semi-annual meeting of the Lavras Workers on the 2d Thursday in January. He will give a lecture with stereopticon views of the fields in which he has worked, and the ladies are assured of an interesting address at their meeting.

Killed by a Train.

An unknown colored man, about 30 years old, who, it is supposed, had been struck by a Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train, was found on one of the tracks near the new union depot about 2 o'clock this morning. The man's right leg was nearly torn off, his skull was fractured and he was injured internally. The unfortunate man was taken to the Alexandria Hospital where he died at an early hour this morning. He was unable to give his name, and his only utterance was "Eliza, Eliza!" In one of his pockets a pawn ticket was found. It bore the name of "H. Brown, Lynchburg." The man had a pair of gloves on his hands, and his clothing resembled that worn by railroad men.

The Weather and River.

The mild weather of the past few days has practically broken up the ice in the river. The large sheets which covered the flats have drifted into the channel where they have been ground into millions of fragments by the propellers of steamers. It now affords no impediment to navigation.

The Norwegian bark Memento, which recently arrived here from South America with a cargo of bones for the Bryant Fertilizer Company, left yesterday in tow of the tugboat Mitchell Davis. The Memento will proceed to Maine where she will be loaded with lumber.

Several tugboats with tows passed up and down the river yesterday.

Personal.

Mrs. J. Stanley Neale, who has returned to make her home in this city, at 716 Queen street, had her son, C. Ashford Neale, spend Christmas day with her; also Mr. Cecil G. Foulkes, of Washington, and his bride, who was Miss Mary H. Wheat, of Baltimore.

Dr. T. Marshall Jones left today for King George county to spend a few weeks with his brother. The doctor is rapidly regaining his health, and hopes soon to resume his practice.

Mrs. W. H. Fitzhugh Lee of Fairfax county is stopping at the Rennert, in Baltimore.

Rev. Thomas C. Darst and his wife and child are visiting Mr. George Wise, Mrs. Darst's father, on Seminary Hill.

Alderman J. M. Hill, who had recently been confined to his home by indisposition, is able to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Leef and children have returned to Lynchburg after having spent a few days with ex-Alderman Doble, Mrs. Leef's father.

Messrs. E. O. Allen, N. H. Willis and Dr. A. J. Thomson, of Jefferson county, W. Va., members of the Valley Chess Club, attended the semi-annual meeting this week at the house of Mr. J. S. Blackburn. Mr. R. O. Allen was the winner of the cup, having beaten five out of six games. While in this city the members were the guests of Mr. Blackburn.

Mrs. S. F. Harper's "at home" yesterday evening was attended by a large number of her friends at her handsome residence on Prince street. The dining-room was beautifully decorated with red carnations and the library and parlors with ferns and narcissus. The charming hostess was assisted in receiving her guests by Miss Cummings and Miss Virginia Slaughter, and those assisting in the dining-room were Misses Julia Slaughter, Katharine Stuart, Eva Dent, Fannie Hill and Jesse Armstrong.

Miss Agnes Travers, of north Henry street, is spending the remainder of the holidays in Philadelphia.

The Cameron Club held a delightful meeting last night in their rooms in Lee Camp Hall and were charmingly entertained by Miss Richards, of Washington, who lectured on current topics. She reviewed the affairs of the past summer, dwelling particularly on the three peace conferences—those held at Mahopac, N. Y., London and Rio de Janeiro. She concluded by giving an interesting account of the differences now existing in France between church and state. The lecture was not only interesting but very instructive.

The condition of Alderman W. W. Ballenger, now at Providence Hospital, Washington, is said to be encouraging.

Miss Eunice Carter, of Lynchburg, is spending the holidays with Miss Hattie Meeks, 1125 Duke street.

Boy's Narrow Escape.

A colored boy had a narrow escape from being crushed to death by the wheels of an electric train at King and Columbus streets yesterday afternoon. The boy ran after a slowly moving train and in attempting to board it fell on the track between the motor and trailer. Mr. George W. Pettey, jr., who was pulled the boy from time to save his life. n been called to the nd colored boys of electric trains. The l in night and day, one or more of them o such foolhardiness.

Worthless Checks.

A warrant was sworn out yesterday at the Central station, Baltimore, for the apprehension of Charles M. Stump, of Fredericksburg, on the charge of passing a worthless check on Charles S. Bradley, who is connected with the Daniel Miller Company, dry goods, and obtaining $25. The check was drawn on the First National Bank of this city. The Daniel Miller Company also cashed a check for $15 for Stump, which was drawn on the same bank. Both checks were returned with a statement to the effect that Mr. Stump has never had an account here.

Died Suddenly.

Mrs. Jessie Cowling, wife of Rev. R. C. Cowling, rector of the Episcopal Church at Urbanna, died suddenly Wednesday in the home of Mr. F. M. Eastman, clerk of the Circuit Court of Middlesex, several miles from Urbanna. Mrs. Cowling was taken sick while riding in a buggy with her husband, and died after she was taken to Mr. Eastman's. Mrs. Cowling, whose maiden name was Miss Jessie Beazley, was a native of Stanardsville, Greene county, and with her husband went to Urbanna a few years ago, where they made many friends. —[Fredericksburg Lance.

Sunday School Celebrations.

The Sunday schools of the Methodist Protestant, Baptist, Grace and Second Presbyterian churches held their Christmas celebrations last night. Each was well-attended and the exercises were interesting throughout. The programmes had been carefully prepared, and all who participated acquitted themselves admirably. The church had been prettily decorated. Christmas reminders were distributed to the scholars and the later presented tokens of appreciation to the teachers and others.

The Southern Railway Company will lay a track from Union street to the north side of the new structure and extend the same to the end of the Cameron street pier.

The railway company does not want to cut off the current from those merchants who have not yet made connections with the Alexandria company and thus leave them without electricity.

The Chandlers are Fined.

Robert E Chandler, father of Bessie Chandler, 23 years of age, who on Saturday was forced to wed Richard Elam, a young man who had been paying attention to her after the latter had been practically kidnapped by the girl's father and her cousin, "Texas Bob" Chandler, and, it is alleged, forced into the marriage at the point of a gun and a rifle, wielded, respectively by the two men, was fined $25 yesterday afternoon by the magistrate at Clarksville, Va., by whom the case was tried, upon a charge of abducting the young man. "Texas Bob" Chandler was fined $50 upon a similar charge.

It was proved conclusively during the trial that young Elam did not injure the girl's character.

The case was not concluded until after dark, having taken up the greater portion of the day. The next move in the case will probably be the institution of a suit on the part of young Elam to have the marriage annulled.

Reprint, News-Herald: "There is at least one effectual, safe, and reliable Cough Cure—Dr. Shoop's—that we regard as suitable, even for the youngest child. For years, Dr. Shoop bitterly opposed the use of opiates or narcotics in medicine, offering $10 per drop to any one finding Opium, Chloroform, or any other poisonous or narcotic ingredient in Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And the challenge is as yet unanswered. Here is one manufacturing physician, who welcomed with much satisfaction, the new Government Pure Food and Drug Law. The public can now protect itself at all times, by insisting on having Dr. Shoop's, when a cough remedy is needed." Sold by F. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

Bride Became Nervous.

After having called off her marriage with a few hours' notice to invited guests Miss Catherine Thorne Aiken, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., daughter of the late Richard Aiken, and reputed to be worth $1,000,000, has been married to James Maloney, a wealthy resident of that city. The ceremony was finally solemnized one hour after the time originally set. At the home of the bridegroom the explanation was offered that the bride had suffered a nervous attack. She feared she could not go through the ceremony, so had the marriage postponed. She recovered shortly and again changed her mind.
